

VOTE

On the Payne Bill Today

There is No Question as to Result

NOT MORE THAN A SCORE OF VOTES AGAINST IT.

FROM THE BEET SUGAR STATES

Comes Some of the Opposition to the Cuban Bill Now Before the House.

Washington, Nov. 19.—At 4 o'clock this afternoon a roll call in the house of representatives of congress will determine the fate of the Payne bill to carry out the provisions of the reciprocity treaty with Cuba and so far as the house is concerned the purpose for which this congress has been called in extraordinary session, will have been accomplished. There is no question as to the result. The "debate" which has been in progress since Monday has been throughout a perfunctory one. A few speeches have been made in opposition in the main for home consumption, and when the roll is called this afternoon the passage of the bill will be by a practically unanimous vote. Democrats generally will support the measure; Republicans will vote for it. The Democratic votes that may be cast against it, will be the votes of those who do not think that the bill goes far enough, or of those who represent interests adversely affected by the concessions granted by Cuba, or those who say the measure favors the sugar trust.

The Republican opposition comes entirely from representatives from beet sugar states—principally Michigan, Colorado and California. It is not believed that there will be more than a score of votes against the measure on either side of the chamber.

DIETRICH

Senator from Nebraska Who is Indicted is Said to be a Political Accident.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 19.—Senator Charles Henry Dietrich, of Nebraska, charged with accepting a bribe of $1,300 from Jacob Fisher, whose appointment he secured as postmaster of Hastings, has been termed a "political accident." Five years ago he was president of a country bank at Hastings, Neb., and scarcely known outside of his home town. In 1900 he was selected as the Republican candidate for governor. He was elected, but had not served out his term before he became United States senator. His party was in a deadlock in the legislature over the senatorship. None of the aspirants for the office could be elected. It was decided to drop them and name two men who were not involved in the controversy. Governor Dietrich was put on the slate and elected the next day. Senator Dietrich was born in Chicago and experienced many hard knocks before he became a successful business man. He is married and has one daughter.

AUTHOR SCOTT'S DEATH.

London, Nov. 19.—Hugh S. Scott, the novelist, better known by his nom de plume, Henry Seton Merriman, died at Merton today. The authors best known work is probable, "With Edged Tools."

TALK

Of Extending Car Strike All Over Chicago Grows Louder

Chicago, Nov. 19.—With the talk of extending the street car strike to all parts of the city growing louder, renewed efforts were made this morning by Mayor Harrison and the Aldermanic mediation committee to bring the trouble to an end and an early conference with the street railway officials was arranged. The prospects of peace, however, are not very bright. The men insist that the routing of cars shall be changed so that men will not have to put in 18 or 20 hours about the barns each day in an effort to make ten hours of actual running time.

CIGARETTES

Denounced by New York Police Judge Who Lectured Each Offender in His Court.

New York, Nov. 19.—"To smoke one cigarette is worse than drinking a barrel of beer."

"Every cigarette means a dream of some future crime."

"The first cigarette a boy or a man smokes is the first step in a future criminal career."

"Cigarettes means death before it is due."

These are declarations of Magistrate Crane, made in Harlem Police Court. Of everybody arraigned before him, irrespective of the charge, he inquired: "Do you smoke cigarettes?" If the prisoner admitted that he did he was lectured, and if he said "No" the Magistrate compelled him to hold up his hands that his fingers might be examined for nicotine stains.

HUSBAND

Signed a Paper That Deeded His Wife To Another Man For One Whole Year.

Toledo, O., Nov. 19.—After following his wife and three little children all the way to Toledo from a town 18 miles east of Pittsburg, only to find her living with another married man, whose wife and child are still in the old country, Albert Schmidt signed a paper giving his wife to a rival, Andrew Strobel, for one year. It is explained, however, that he did not know what he was signing at the time. He does not understand English.

Schmidt says that his wife joined Strobel here a month ago, obtaining money from her husband under the pretense that she was going to visit her parents, who reside in Pittsburg, where Strobel formerly resided. He followed her here, and, after signing the paper, caused the arrest of the couple.

The case was heard before Justice Burke and upon the recommendation of Humane Agent Ware was dismissed. Mrs. Schmidt agreed to return home with her husband. The defendant paid the costs.

PANIC

Presaged in Holland as a Result of the Fall in American Securities.

The Hague, Nov. 19.—Of late a great many banks have failed, especially in Haarlem and Delft, but also in the south of Holland, and now in The Hague itself, the well known De Hollandish Bank stopped payment.

In most cases the evil in speculation in American rails and steel, the financial condition, therefore, is very much depressed. It is even said that in the near future many more banks at the Hague will fail, and at present one cannot be too careful in placing one's money. If this is really true it may venture to say that a general panic will ensue.

The last fall in the American market swallowed one quarter of Holland's investments in American securities, but if the banks, in which the public and in most cases the middle classes, put their trust, stop payment, then general trouble will ensue. The owners of the bank which stopped payment, Heren De Vos and Vreede, are trying to arrange affairs with their creditors. On Saturday in Voorburg a village close to The Hague, another bank failed, and, of course, one house drags another into difficulties.

I may add that during the recent drop, when the Atchison shares, or which many are in the hands of the Dutch, went as low as 55 1/4, Holland's American investment went into the hands of foreigners. The middle classes are those who suffer most by it. At present people are beginning to distrust bankers, and ask for their deposits or want shares or bonds for them. As I have said more failures are expected.

FEAR

Revolution in Honduras - On the Verge of Anarchy.

New York, Nov. 19.—(Bulletin)—Advices from Guatemala City state that news has been received there from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, that the latter country finds itself on the verge of anarchy. The governmental party has been completely overwhelmed by the opposition in the recent elections. As affairs now stand the executive branch can count on the legislative branch approving nothing proposed. A revolution is feared.

WALLACE HELD

FATHER OF MISSING GIRL HAS HIM ARRESTED.

Not a Person Can be Found Who Has Seen the Young Girl Since Sept. 15.

Cambridge, O., Nov. 19.—Where is Pauline Hackenburg, who so mysteriously disappeared from the home of Walter Wallace September 15?

Pauline Hackenburg came here with Walter Wallace about 16 months ago. They lived together as brother and sister, and later on Mrs. Wallace came here from Philadelphia.

On September 15 Miss Hackenburg disappeared from the Wallace home, and since that time no trace of her has been found.

Wallace did not report the disappearance of the girl until about two weeks after she had left. Since that time, until a week ago, when he was arrested, he has traveled to a number of cities, Columbus, Zanesville, Wheeling and Pittsburg, looking for the girl. At last her father, Leopold Hackenburg, of Philadelphia, heard of her disappearance, and on his arrival here caused the arrest of Wallace on a statutory charge.

Wallace's trial was held yesterday before Mayor Smallwood, and he was bound over to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $500.

Not a person can be found who saw the girl since September 15. If she was murdered the body has been very carefully made away with, as not the slightest trace of the body or clothes can be found, notwithstanding the fact that a very thorough search has been made by the police.

The charge on which Wallace was tried was made simply in order to hold him pending developments in the case.

GIRL SHOTS HER YOUNGER SISTER

Uhrichsville, O., Nov. 19.—Ruth, the 12-year-old daughter of M. C. Bremer of Port Washington was accidentally shot and instantly killed yesterday by her sister, Fannie, aged 15.

Fannie picked up a shotgun from where it was lying on a bed and playfully pointed it at her sister. There was a loud report and Ruth fell to the floor with the entire top of her head blown off.

The older sister is prostrated with grief.

LARGEST CORNFIELD IN WORLD.

Tarkio, Mo., Nov. 19.—David Rankin of this town, has the largest cornfield in the world. It contains 6000 acres and it takes 52 double row cultivators to work the field at once. The entire product of the field is fed to the 15,000 acre ranch every year.

SCENE

Created by Carrie the Smasher

Who Was Determined to See the President

MRS. NATION EJECTED FROM THE WHITE HOUSE.

OFFICERS DRAGGED HER OUT, THEN SHE SHOUTED SHE WOULD PRAY FOR A PROHIBITION PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, the Kansas saloon smasher, was forcibly ejected from the White House this morning after vainly endeavoring to see the President. She created quite a scene on the streets afterwards. Holding up her right hand she shouted: "I am going to pray for a prohibition president, one who will represent the people and not the brewers."

She called at the White House about 10 o'clock today and asked to be admitted to the President's office. Secretary Loeb sent out word that the President was busy. She insisted. Secretary Loeb seeing that he could not pacify her, finally called in two officers and told them to eject her. Carrie resisted and they were compelled to drag her out by the arms.

CARRIE ARRESTED.

Washington, Nov. 19.—(Bulletin)—Carrie Nation has been arrested for disorderly conduct and selling souvenirs in the Senate gallery. She was taken to the Sixth precinct police station in a patrol wagon.

Mrs. Nation was found $25 in police court this afternoon on account of the disturbance she made at the capitol. When Judge Kimball announced the fine she pulled a roll of bills out of her pocket, peeled off $25 and paid it to the clerk. Mrs. Nation declared that she could not see why she ought to be fined for merely warning the Senators against the saloon evil. Then she walked out of the court room.

KILLED BY ARMENIANS.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—The Tageblatt reports that Archbishop Davique was assassinated by Armenians today at Uschmiadin, in the Caucasus. His assassin escaped.

ANN'S AGE THE CAUSE OF SUIT

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 19.—The Connecticut superior court has taken the first steps toward deciding judicially the awful question, How old is Ann?

Ann Murphy died in this city recently. On Feb. 2, 1891, she took out a life policy in the Mutual Reserve Fund association. The beneficiary of course, was Mary—Mary Vincent, who still lives here.

When Mary presented Ann's insurance policy for collection the insurance company broached the oft-repeated interrogation, and not getting an immediate answer as to the age of Ann, refused to pay the money, asserting that Ann was older than she said she was when she took out the policy.

Mary says that Ann surely stated her right age, because she, Mary, is now twice as old as Ann was when she took out the insurance policy, and that Ann's age is recorded in the parish of Kilkenny, Ireland.

The insurance company will produce experts who will either assist the court in figuring the real age of Ann or add to the perplexity of the court by a riddle.

FATHER

Compelled His Children to Witness His Awful Suicide.

Cleveland, Nov. 19.—In the presence of his two daughters, aged five and eight, Albert Hackett, while insane, pounded his head with a club and then cut his throat. He locked all the doors in the house and forced his children to witness the suicide, threatening to kill them if they cried out or resisted. His children today are in a terrible state of nervous terror as a result of the suicide.

FOR AN EAR

WESTERN MILLIONAIRE PAYS SUM OF $5000.

Two Men Are Bound Together While the Grafting Process is on at the Hospital.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 19.—Dr. Andrew L. Neiden of New York has performed the operation of grafting an ear upon the head of a Western millionaire whose name the surgeon says he is under bond not to reveal.

Dr. Neiden advertised for a man willing to sell an ear for $5000 and of 300 applicants he selected a young German who conducts a restaurant in New York.

Dr. Neiden said: "The operation which promises to be successful took place at a private hospital."

The two men were placed in opposite directions upon an elongated bed. One-half of the volunteer's ear, the upper half, was cut off, together with about four inches of the skin behind the ear.

"This was twisted around and fitted to a freshly prepared wound upon the patient's head. The half ear was held in place by bandages and the two men bound so they could not move their heads."

"They must retain this position for at least twelve days to allow the circulation to come through the flap of skin that still remains a part of the volunteer's scalp."

"If this half of the ear starts to unite properly the lower half of the ear will be grafted in the same manner."

GIRL ATTEMPTS TO KILL FAMILY

Urbana, O., Nov. 19.—Lizzie Mumma, 15, residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Mumma, near Woodstock, attempted a wholesale poisoning by placing paris green in the family coffee pot.

She put in too much, however, and the effect was just opposite of what was planned. The father fell to the floor, however, and was in convulsions for over an hour. There were seven others in the family who suffered from the act of the girl.

A youthful admirer had gone to the home Sunday evening to escort the girl to church, and because the mother bade him begone, the girl attempted the horrible revenge.

She started to walk to Marysville, after committing the deed, but was caught and brought back to her home.

From Liverpool to Yokohama by the trans-Canada route will be but 2,800 miles. By New York and San Francisco it is 12,908 miles.

PLOT

To Kidnap King Victor's Year Old Child is Discovered

Rome, Nov. 19.—The police have discovered a plot to kidnap Princess Volland Marguerite, the year old daughter of King Victor. The kidnapers intended to carry the young princess off while she was in the country palace and hold her for ransom. They selected a time when the king and queen would be abroad, as they believed the guardianship over the child would be more lax than ordinarily. Great precautions are now being taken to protect the infant. A constant guard day and night is being kept near her person.

SOCIALISM

Downed by the Federation After President Gompers in Bitter Language Denounced It at Boston.

Boston, Nov. 19.—After a long debate chiefly noteworthy because of the bitter language of President Samuel Gompers in dealing with Socialism, the American Federation of Labor defeated resolutions pledging it to Socialism. Nine resolutions presented by Socialists and calling for the adoption of their principles had been reported upon unfavorably by the committee on resolutions, and delegates representing a voting strength of 11,232 registered themselves in support of the committee's recommendation, while delegates with 2,185 votes cast theirs in favor of the resolutions. All the leaders of both sides are engaged in the debate.

The climax came when Gompers in bitter and unqualified language, scourged Socialism.

DECOY LETTER

Landed Young Fellow at Chicago—Or, How He Was in Hiding Made the Arrest.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The recently made threat to blow up the Plaza hotel unless $500 was handed to the maker of the threat at a place designated, was the work of Charles Wright, according to a confession which young Wright made to the police. Wright, who is 19 years old, declared that he wrote the threatening letter at the instance of a man whose name is not known but whom he described.

Wright's arrest was brought about through a second threat which he made. A decoy package was left for him at a saloon which he designated, and when the young man called, a detective who had been in hiding made the arrest.

MONSTER

Meeting of Laboring Men Will be Held in Chicago Next Sunday, November 22.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Sunday's union mass meeting is expected to be the greatest demonstration of organized labor ever held in Chicago. Every union in the city has been asked to participate. Each union will assemble at its headquarters and march through the streets, with a band of music at its head, to Tattersall's, the meeting place. The object of the meeting is to obtain the voice of the entire labor element on the strike question and municipal ownership of the city street railroads. The union teamsters today joined hands with the striking trainmen, every member of the teamsters organization now refusing to haul any goods or supplies of any kind to or from the barns, shops, power houses or offices of the company.

The freight handlers employed in the wholesale grocery houses talk of refusing to handle goods destined for the street railway company.

A car load of strike breakers from St. Louis is said to have arrived today.

Cars were started on the Halsted street line this morning. Five hundred policemen guarded the cars and tracks. A great crowd was about the barns and there was some disorder.

AGAIN

Has Hearing Been Postponed

Agreement Said to Have Been Reached

WITH BONDHOLDERS OF SHIP BUILDING CO.

METHODS OF HIGH FINANCE

Will Not be Disclosed to the Public—Mr. Schwab is to Confess Judgment.

New York, Nov. 19.—There is good authority for the statement made today that an agreement has been reached with the bondholders of the United States Ship Building company whereby the proceedings brought by the bondholders to make the receiver of the company permanent, will be discontinued. The hearing set for tomorrow has again been postponed until Tuesday, and it is said that the public will never be treated to any more interesting disclosures about certain financiers and methods of high finance.

It is said that the Schwab interests and those connected with him in the Bethlehem deal have consented to confess judgment. The claims of bondholders in the shipyard combine will be paid in full, their lawyers fees paid and the combine placed in the hands of a permanent receiver. By confessing judgment, the Schwab party will acknowledge that the ship building company is insolvent and that the temporary receivership should be made permanent. When the order confessing judgment is filed with Judge Kirkpatrick of the United States Circuit court of New Jersey, it is expected that he will make James Smith Jr., permanent receiver.

Had the investigation gone on, Schwab, John W. Gates and George W. Perkins would have had to go on the stand and submit to examination as to their respective actions in the case of the ship building company prior to the collapse of that corporation. Neither W. D. Guthrie, Samuel Untermyer, nor Henry Wellman will admit that a settlement has been reached in the case.

MRS. WARDEN

Venerable Mother of Captain F. G. Warden Hurt in the Elevator at the Hotel.

Mrs. Mary Warden, widow of the late Hiram Warden, and the venerable mother of Captain F. G. Warden, was seriously injured in an elevator accident at the Hotel Warden.

Mrs. Warden had gone into the elevator cage to go to her room on an upper floor, and it is supposed she stumbled. In falling she grasped the control rope which sent the elevator shooting upward. When it got to the second floor before the boy who was on the other side realized what had happened, she was caught between the floor and the elevator. The boy did all in his power and she was extricated and taken to her room where Dr. A. J. Speer made an examination of her injuries. She is badly hurt about the hips and side, and on account of her intense suffering has been kept constantly under the influence of opiates.

In view of this fact and the additional handicap of age, the outcome of her injuries is extremely doubtful.

SNOW IN OHIO

Geneva, O., Nov. 19.—Geneva was visited by a regulation winter blizzard and since 9 o'clock Tuesday night 14 inches of snow have fallen. Street cars stopped here and Ashland have been blocked since early Wednesday morning while traffic between here and Painesville is seriously impeded. The snow is so deep that the Lake Shore railway found it necessary to send its snowplow over the road.

WILL SEND NO TROOPS.

Washington, Nov. 19.—President Roosevelt today decided after a long conference with Secretary Root to deny the request made by Gov. Peabody of Colorado to send Federal troops to his state on account of the violence growing out of the coal strike situation. Under the law the President can act only when such violence exists as is equivalent to an insurrection and when the situation is entirely beyond the police control of the state.

PANAMA TREATY IS SIGNED

Providing for Construction of Isthmian Canal—Document Signed By Secretary and Hay M. Philippe Bunau-Varilla Wednesday Night at Mr. Hay's Residence in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Secretary Hay and M. Philippe Bunau-Varilla, the minister from Panama, at 6:49 o'clock last evening signed the Hay-Bunau-Varilla treaty, providing for the construction of the Panama canal by the United States. The ceremony occurred in Secretary Hay's study. The Panama minister arrived at Mr. Hay's house promptly at 6 o'clock, having made an appointment with the secretary for a conference at that hour. He was both surprised and delighted to find that the secretary had before him the treaty enclosed in duplicate. The secretary informed M. Bunau-Varilla that he was ready to sign the treaty. The minister read the document carefully and then he and Secretary Hay attached their signatures to it. The treaty gives to the United States absolute sovereignty over the canal strip which, it is understood, comprises between eight and ten miles on each side of the canal. Within that zone the power of the United States is as absolute as if the zone was part and parcel of this country.

THE ALCOHOL TURNS LIQUID KIDNEY REMEDIES INTO POISONS.
Remember this:—Kidney-Wort Tablets CANNOT contain alcohol.

MRS. JAMES OGDEN couldn't sit or stand with-out Intense Pains across her Back.

Sept. 26, 1903, Mrs. Jas. Ogden, 1104 S. Bodine St. Philadelphia, Pa. wrote "I suffered from kidney trouble that threatened to carry me to my grave. I had sharp pains in the side and was told by doctors that my ailment was inflammation of the kidneys and bladder. I had no appetite, and was in a weak and exhausted condition. I tried several so-called kidney preparations, but they proved of no use. I was advised to try Dr. Pettigill's Kidney-Wort Tablets. Three bottles of the tablets relieved me, and I have cured me permanently."

With men and women who live well, but take little exercise, a slight dropsy of the legs is often noticeable. This invariably points to weakened action of the kidneys.

Let your morning urine stand 24 hours. High color, cloudy or reddish sediment means kidney trouble.

Find out what your symptoms mean. Write to Consultation Department, 133 College street, Burlington, Vt., for free, candid advice. If you have Backache, Piercing or Burning Pains, or bad urine, it is dangerous to remain in doubt.

CONNECTICUT TOBACCO GROWN
UNDER CHEESECLOTH TENTS

WHERE SUMATRA AND CUBAN WEATHER IS HELD IN CAPTIVITY—MOISTURE THAT MAKES THE TOBACCO BETTER.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 18.—The biggest test show in the world is in Connecticut, the state of P. T. Barnum. Uncle Sam is the promoter of the show, and his printing bills in advertising it are almost as big as were Barnum's in his day. The tents cover more than 700 acres of ground and within them are contained the largest specimens of Sumatra and Cuban weather in captivity in this country.

For a hundred years or more Connecticut has been growing tobacco, and so closely has the industry been identified with the life of the agricultural section of the state that the wives and daughters of the farmers, it is whispered, even wear "Connecticut wrappers" during the day.

The "scientific fellers" in the agricultural department at Washington, however, figured out to their own satisfaction that although Connecticut tobacco was pretty good, it was not as good as it ought to be since other parts of the world, where the soil and climate were almost identical, were growing a superior product. So the government sent a colony of experts to Connecticut to solve the question of making Connecticut tobacco as good as Sumatra tobacco. They made a survey of the tobacco district and later leased several experimental plantations on which they grew tobacco in the way they thought it ought to be done. This tobacco was a trifle better than the average in the district, but not enough to impress the Yankee farmers who had been growing tobacco all their lives, and who thought they knew about all there was to know on the subject.

In the spring of 1900 the department grew a small area of Sumatra tobacco under a tent of cheesecloth, and the results were so successful that some of the more enterprising growers tried it themselves the next year. They found it paid better to cultivate the "shade-grown" Sumatra than to continue growing Connecticut-Havana seed on the outside.

Vast amounts of money were invested in covering the fields with cheesecloth tents, supported by a framework of wood and wire. Some of the tents cover over 50 acres of ground. The cheesecloth, which is made especially coarse and strong, has the quality of letting in warmth and moisture and not letting it out again, so that the air in the tents is much like that in a hothouse. The success of the shade-grown tobacco ventures is evidenced by the fact that many of the owners of plantations now ride through their tents on inspection tours in their own automobiles.

HANNA'S BROKEN PROMISES

(Columbus Press.)

Unfortunately for thousands of wage earners, Mr. Hanna is not keeping his ante-election promise to them. During the campaign Mr. Hanna had a dreadful vision of what would happen if the people of Ohio were so inconsiderate as to defeat his desire to sit six years longer in the senate. He vividly pictured mills closing and laboring men, who are the special beneficiaries of his good graces, being cast into the outer darkness of idleness and want as it was during the Wall street panic from 1892 to 1896.

Mr. Hanna closed his eyes during the campaign to the premature fulfillment of his prophesies at Zanesville and Cambridge and Mirgo Junction and Portsmouth and Youngstown and other industrial centers in Ohio, just as he seems now to be shutting his eyes to the cut in wages that has been ordered by the steel trust followed by a cut in wages at the cotton factories in the east. The people of Ohio were so anxious to prevent a business cataclysm that they gave Mr. Hanna a "vote of confidence" amounting up to a majority of 110,000 for his candidature for governor, and actually thrust upon him a majority of 90 in the legislature so that he might be spared the embarrassment and inconvenience he encountered six years ago when he was compelled to resort to "sound business principles" to obtain a seat in the senate.

After being the recipient of such a flood of favors from the people of Ohio, including thousands of workmen who are still clinging to the "full dinner pail," Mr. Hanna rushes off to Washington to help steal the chairmanship of the committee on canals from Senator Morgan in order that he may aid the $40,000,000 Panama deal—while the steel trust and the cotton trust are cutting wages and thousands more are on strike.

It begins to appear that the "sound business principles" Mr. Hanna had in mind when he gloated over the Ohio election are the principles the "captains of industry" apply to their business when they want to renege—reduce wages.

And yet, who shall sympathize with men who will not sympathize with themselves? After the experience workmen have had since Home-Steal, and especially during the last six years, with government by injunction, massacres like that at Latimer, lull-pens in Idaho and Colorado, broken promises like the "full dinner pail" fable of 1900, the increased cost of living, and robbery as practiced by "Trustee" Baer, Mark Hanna, J. P. Morgan, and other coal kings, it is an inevitable conclusion that the workmen especially who voted for Hanna, Herrick and "sound business principles" are getting just what they voted for and just what they might have expected, regardless of the promises Mr. Hanna made in campaign speeches.

Mansfield Shield: The Ohio legislature is to be advised by great Republican lawyers that it would be unconstitutional to pass a ward local option bill. It is in order now to hear a long and hoarse howl from Brother F. A. Baker, of the Anti-Saloon League, who says that he did a great deal towards bringing about the election of the present legislature under the promise that ward local option shall be passed.

James Poe, a B. & O. railroad machinist was badly injured in the yards Thursday. He had gone out to the ash pit to make some repairs on engine 2336, which backed down on him, striking him on the hip and knocking him down. He was badly bruised and was taken to his home on Stanberry street. He claims he was unable to see the engine on account of the steam.

Mr. Kerrigan desires to have his section in first class condition at all times.

NATIONAL RIFLE RANGE

Not Enough Room on the Newark Camp Ground It Is Claimed--Now Talk of Locating the Range On Lake Erie Shore.

Colonel Edward T. Miller, assistant adjutant general, said Wednesday that there was a proposition pending to establish a national target and rifle range on the lake shore, a few miles east of Cleveland.

He was in Cleveland this week inspecting the engineers. At the close there was a little dinner, at which this matter was brought up, and a committee was appointed then and there to make inquiry to see whether the ground could be leased for this purpose.

"We find now," said Colonel Miller, "that the National association and the government wants sufficient width for 50 targets. At first they only wanted 30, and we had width enough at the Newark grounds for that. But we can not get the ground for so many targets as are now demanded. I have not seen the Cleveland grounds as yet, but hope to visit the place before long."

"It is a level stretch lying between the Lake Shore railway tracks and the lake, at a point where the Lake Shore tracks leave the shore for a short distance. It looks out over the lake, so all danger of injury from the balls is cut off."

"The government is looking for a suitable range in this vicinity, and we hope to be able to get an appropriation from the government to put the grounds in condition if they can be secured."

Newark should secure this national rifle range if possible. It would be a great advertisement for the city and would bring thousands of strangers to the town. It might be well for the Board of Trade to take the matter up and to see if arrangements can be made whereby the required ground can be secured near Newark.

SUICIDE MANIA

Developed by Chas. Spicer Who Made Two Attempts Wednesday Evening to Take His Life--Boy's Home is in Trinway, Ohio.

Charles Spicer, aged about 20 years, who has been a helper in the blacksmith shop at the B. & O., developed a suicidal mania Wednesday evening, was kept on two occasions from carrying out his designs against his own life, disturbed a religious meeting, spent the night in the city prison, and will probably be sent to the insane asylum at Columbus within the next 24 hours.

Spicer's home is at Trinway, and about two months ago he came to Newark to work, securing board and lodging at the Park Hotel. About six weeks ago he submitted to an operation for appendicitis, and since that time has not been in the best of health. About a week ago the boarders at the hotel, and Mr. J. F. Brougher, the proprietor, noticed Spicer's strange talk and actions, and began to realize that he was not quite "right."

On Wednesday he came home about four o'clock, and after acting in a rather peculiar manner, took a suit of clean underwear and went to the bathroom. Here he filled the tub full of water and made two attempts to drown himself, and might have succeeded had not help arrived.

Mrs. Brougher, who is janitress of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, near the hotel, went there about 6:30 to open the church and get everything in readiness for the midweek prayer meeting. While this meeting was in progress, Spicer entered and taking a seat in the back of the church, immediately attracted attention, which was succeeded by alarm at his disheveled appearance, wild eyes and insane actions.

He refused to leave when Mrs. Brougher requested him to do so, and an officer was summoned who took him to the station house and locked him up. It is probable that an affidavit of lunacy will be filed by Mr. Brougher.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Parish Priest" which plays at the Auditorium next Monday, Nov. 23, will afford theatre goers a delightful play, where dramatic effect is sacrificed for naturalness and the heart, not the back-bone, is appealed to by the dramatist. It reproduces Pennsylvania life with all the beauties of the Wyoming Valley, made famous by the poet, John Boyle O'Reilly, telling a simple little love story which creeps into the hearts of the auditors, and the graceful unraveling produces smiles and tears. It is a human story, a story of home where the glow of the peaceful fire lights the happy faces of reunited friends, who at sunset were separated, as they thought, forever. In that glow is Father Whalen, who by arduous diplomatic has brought about the happiness of his friends. In so doing he has unconsciously placed himself in positions where for a time he is denounced by those he has attempted to befriend. Comedy and pathos result from these complications which develop the peculiarities of the characters who are always interesting. There is much that is novel in the development of the simple story which glimmers with incidents that are new. One of the beautiful scenes is the making of the chair by the brothers in Act Second. It is these mere incidents which appeal to audiences and awaken their enthusiasm.

The devotional services were in charge of Mrs. Stella Anderson, who read the 12th chapter of Isaiah. Beautiful songs were sung and several prayers offered. Our president being absent the vice president very acceptably filled the chair. No business was transacted. A committee of three was appointed to send a letter of condolence to Mrs. Rev. Hixson, she being an earnest member of our union, and who has been so lately bereaved of her companion. The devotional on next Tuesday afternoon will be led by Mrs. Fletcher. It is earnestly desired that there be a large attendance. There will be reports from the national convention now in session at Cincinnati. The afternoon program was in charge of Miss Alice Burr, superintendent of anti-narcotics. The subject was on tobacco, and it is to be regretted that more did not hear it. Mrs. Brooks read a paper on non-uses, and was very good, also one read by Mrs. Anderson. These meetings are held every Tuesday afternoon in the parlors of the first M. E. church. Everyone is welcome and invited.

FAINTED AT HER WORK

BANGOR, ME., WOMAN GAINED HEALTH AND COLOR FROM FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE.

Mrs. M. C. Sisk, of Bangor, Me., says: "I intended writing you before this of the benefit I received from Father John's Medicine. I had been troubled for months with my stomach. I could not eat, it distressed me so. My stomach seemed to burn all the time, but more so at night, and I would get so hot and dizzy that I have fainted at my work, and had to be carried up to my room three or four different times. The doctors said it was indigestion and gave me medicine for it—but nothing seemed to relieve me. Reading the daily paper one morning I read of Father John's Medicine and thought I should try it. I only took two bottles and I am completely cured. I can never be thankful enough for the good it has done me. I can eat all kinds of food and everything agrees with me. I have gained in weight and my color has come back. It is a splendid medicine. (Signed) Mrs. M. C. Sisk, Penobscot Exchange.

PICKING UP COAL

When a Train Struck J. W. Robinson of Vale Street Inflicting Probably Fatal Injuries Early Thursday Morning.

J. W. Robinson, aged about 58 years, who lives on Vale street, met with an accident about 5:30 Thursday morning, that will no doubt cause his death. The old gentleman was out on the tracks of the Lake Erie division of the B. & O., just north of the Church street crossing, engaged in picking up coal. About this time the tracks are in use by the early morning freights coming from the north, and after he had got off to allow one to pass, he stepped back on the track and again engaged in picking-up coal. Another train approached from the north and he said he glanced toward it and thinking it was on another track from the one he was on, paid no more attention to it. As he made no effort to get out of the way the train struck him and he was thrown under the wheel which passed over the left foot crushing it into a pulp.

NOTED SPORTING MAN

Chas. F. Sampson Known as a Square Gambler from Ocean to Ocean Died Recently at Denver-- A Former Newark Man.

The Denver, Colo., papers of Nov. 12, copies of which have just been received in Newark tell of the death of Chas. F. Sampson, a former Newark man, who learned his trade years ago at the Ball & Ward carriage shops. The following is taken from the Denver Republican of November 12:

Charles Francis Sampson died at his home, 1445 South Fifteenth street, at 5:45 o'clock yesterday morning. He had been confined to the house for three weeks, suffering from fatty degeneration of the heart, which had bothered him for seven years. A year ago he was at death's door.

Mr. Sampson was born in Hartford, Licking county, O., on August 16, 1835. He had lived in Denver 30 years, was one of the three oldest members of the local lodge of Elks.

With the death of Mr. Sampson goes to rest the last of the old time gamblers of Denver. He was a partner with Chifton Bell, Charles H. Pierce and Ed McClintock in the early days and with them made and lost fortunes. It could always be said of "Charlie" Sampson that he was a square gambler. The per centage due to him from the table was all that he asked and he was never known to be connected with any place that harbored crookedness in any form. When he lost he was a philosopher; when he won he was a prince.

The patrons of the places where Mr. Sampson held forth were the big men of Colorado and the country. He had an influential clientele, the fortunate in the state and the noted visitor played over the Sampson tables and they often lost a great deal and sometimes won moderate fortunes; but it was all in the turn of the card, and no one grumbled, certainly not Mr. Sampson, who had the most equable temper of any man who ever made a profession of the game that wrecks the nerves of so many; he was always in pleasant mood, fond of a good story, generous to a fault. He will be mourned by a large number of people in different walks of life.

Mr. Sampson is survived by a wife and daughter, Frances Bain Sampson, and a brother, J. H. Sampson. He was married in Denver 21 years ago next Thanksgiving day and the notable of Denver were present at the ceremony.

It was in 1871 that Mr. Sampson arrived in Denver and entered into partnership with Bell and Pomeroy. They opened a gambling house over Sholt's billiard room on Larimer, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets. Here a flourishing business was done; money was easily made in those days and Denver was a frontier town, drawing tribute from the mining camps. The money that passed hands there in a night would cause the "pikers" of the present day, that look askance on a $100 bill, to have tremors. They continued here for six years. Then Sampson and Pomeroy took up quarters at the corner of Sixteenth and Larimer streets. Business improvements required them to move across the street to the old Hyman building. They continued there for 10 years.

Since then Mr. Sampson had been in partnership with several of the gamblers now living. His more recent partner being Robert Austin. One of the stories told of Mr. Sampson, which illustrates his quiet humor, was of the time of the flush days immediately after the completion of the Tabor opera house block. One evening smoke was seen pouring from the building and an alarm of fire was turned in. A newspaper man saw "Charlie" Sampson standing in the middle of the street, looking disconsolately at the building.

"What's the matter Charlie?" asked his acquaintance.

"Matter? Look!" and he took a card hand from his pocket and pointed to three jacks. "We've been playing jacks all afternoon and this is the first time I had an opportunity to open and the first started before I got a chance."

But it never took long for him to see the upper side. There had been occasions when he was "broke" and there have been times when he had "money to burn," and he was always the same, cheerful and optimistic, and a natural born gambler, who could no more help gambling than he could avoid spending the money that went to him, freely and among those who needed it. In the early days when the stakes were high, stories of his prodigality to his friends and those in want are still told. When gambling was closed in more recent years, Mr. Sampson confined himself to the quiet game of poker, when the bars were let down he joined with some, other and engaged rooms. He had places in the leading hotels, which were private to all who could not afford to lose "like gentlemen." Few of the men who made millions in Denver have failed to place their legs under a table at which "Charlie" Sampson presided and some of the poker games that have become classic had him as one of the main participants.

At the Windsor hotel a dozen years ago an Englishman who had come to the West to purchase a famous ranch, was introduced to a game at which a well known cattleman and a banker and a couple of mining men had chairs. When the loose cash was gone the stranger produced checks and these were accepted. A few days later they were protested and the man who held them, a millionaire now living, chided Sampson for introducing the shady individual. At once the gambler inquired the amount, and finding that he had not sufficient, went and borrowed and redeemed the checks. He held himself responsible.

Mr. Sampson was a carriage maker by trade, but in his youth he turned to the green cloth and never abandoned it until a short time ago. In the early days in the East he was one of the most fortunate of the craft and became interested in gambling establishments in Saratoga, Columbus, O., Topeka and Leavenworth, Hot Springs, Ark., and San Francisco. For a time he was associated with the noted Col. Jennison, known as the "Kansas Jayhawker" who in the early days of the war would take a company of soldiers out of Leavenworth on foot and bring them back in carriages and buggies loaded with the plunder of a raid in the south.

After his coming to Denver Mr. Sampson took up the fad of racing and owned a number of trotters. He was not very successful, however. He brought from the East a noted trotter of the early days named Olmstead. The horse was engaged in annual track meet in Denver and was unknown. It made a long shot and Sampson bet heavily and won a large stake, but it was the only race the horse ever won and the animal proved an expensive luxury.

Three years ago Mr. Sampson opened an establishment in Little Rock, Ark., and was on the high road to wealth again, when the authorities interfered with the practice and he had to retire to Denver. He was one of those who obeyed the order of the authorities at all times. When the order went forth Sampson closed and waited philosophically for the next day.

Mr. Sampson had a number of friends all over the country and yesterday telegrams of condolence were received by the family from William Pinkerton and noted people in New York and other cities. In the "flush" days he traveled like a prince and his coming and going was marked as events in the Eastern city and he was always ready to "open" or to "open" as the case might be and the limit was usually the next day.

Last February Mr. Sampson made a life history member of the B. P. O. E. No. 11 of this city. At the last anniversary he and Augustus Detof and Edward Perry were on the platform as the three surviving charter members of the lodge.

ARMY Will March on Panama If America Adheres To Her Policy.

Panama, November 19.—Under date of November 13, the Herald's correspondent at Bogota sends the following cable dispatch: "Official reply was made today, to the note presented by United States Minister Beaupre informing the Colombian government that Washington had entered into official relations with the republic of Panama. The reply was framed by Senor Carlos Ricos, minister of foreign affairs, who vigorously defends his government and threatens to march an army on Panama unless the United States immediately recedes from its position. That the Colombians are willing to fight to maintain their dignity and, if possible, retake Panama, is shown by the strong support offered the government and the popular approval of Minister Ricos's stand. The minister in his note to the United States, through Minister Beaupre, says: "The Colombian government protests energetically at the attitude taken by the United States. By the recognition of Panama and the warning that the United States will not allow Colombia to put down the rebellion, the heretofore friendly relations existing between the two governments have arrived at such a critical state that it is absolutely impossible to continue diplomatic relations, unless the Washington government should immediately give notice that it has no intention to prevent Colombia from retaking the isthmus or to extend any recognition to the belligerents." The note concludes by stating that "a prompt reply is awaited from Washington, as the Colombian army is ready to march on Panama at once." Adding to the indignation of the people and stirring them in their preparations for war is a cable dispatch received today that Germany "disapproves of the course taken by the United States and censures her for her interference at Panama." The message has caused general rejoicing, and on all sides are heard cheers for Germany. General Perdon is has been appointed commander in chief of the Colombian army. He is possibly the best informed officer in Bogota as to the isthmus, having acted in an official capacity at Panama during exciting times there. He was once governor of Panama.

It was announced today in official circles that the French colony at Bogota had extended its sympathy to the Colombian government, and had offered to contribute $500,000 for its support.

ROBBED BY HIGHWAYMAN ON WAY HOME AT NIGHT.

Stray Bird Dog Bites a Child—Wedding a Surprise—Shooting Match. A Dinner Party.

Hebron, O., Nov. 19.—While on his way home at night in a secluded place on the road, Roy Baugher was held up and robbed by an unknown person. Fortunately he did not carry his watch that evening and only had about one dollar in change so his loss was not heavy, but his experience with the highwayman was not very pleasant. A few days ago a stray bird dog came to the home of Mr. John Voorhees. During the day while the little grand daughter, Hazel Voorhees, was caressing it, the dog jumped at her biting her through the hip and terribly lacerating her face. As there was no symptoms of hydrophobia no uneasiness is felt.

THE COURTS TWO SUITS FOR DAMAGES ARE FILED.

Channel Case Carried to the Supreme Court by the Defendant—Jos. Lee on Trial.

Charles O. Coleman by his attorneys, W. O. Bowers, Sylvester Leamon and Smythe & Smythe, has commenced suit in the Common Pleas Court against Alice A. Coleman for $10,000 damages for defamation of character in accusing him of living with one Pearl McChintie as his wife, and in saying that he was dishonest and would not pay his just debts and saying that he associated with immoral women. Pearl M. Coleman by the same attorneys, has also commenced suit against Alice A. Coleman for $10,000 damages for defamation of character. It seems that Alice A. Coleman was formerly the wife of Charles O. Coleman, but that she secured a divorce from him. Mr. Coleman, it is claimed, then married Miss Pearl McChintie. The former wife as it is alleged, claims that they are not married, hence the trouble.

Channel, in which Channel was tried and convicted of petit larceny and which conviction has been affirmed by the Circuit court, Channel, through his attorneys, Smythe & Smythe and J. B. Channel's attorneys went to Columbus Thursday to look after the application. J. R. Fitzgibbon prosecuting attorney, also went to Columbus for the purpose of resisting the application. It will be remembered that Channel was convicted of the larceny of a cow and nine pigs several years ago the property of J. F. Beeson, near Ash. Owing to the absence of the attorneys in the Channel case court did not convene until Thursday after noon at one o'clock, at which time the case of Ohio vs. Joseph Lee, indicted for burglary and larceny was taken up by Fitzgibbon; Smythe & Smythe.

Mr. Bowser's Diary

He Records His Feelings For Twenty-four Hours
While Mrs. B. Is Away & Rails at Mother-in-law & Her Sudden Illness He at First Thought a Scheme to Make It Uncomfortable For Him

(Copyright, 1903, by C. B. Lewis.)

WHEN Mr. Bowser reached home the other evening he found Mrs. Bowser ready to start for the depot and take a train to see her mother, word having come by telegraph that the old lady was ill.

"This is a nice state of affairs!" he exclaimed when matters had been explained to him. "Your mother has been as tough as an old knot for the last hundred years, and now she suddenly falls sick!"

"But she can't help it," replied Mrs. Bowser.

"I don't know about that. It may be a put up job to spite me."

"Don't be foolish. I shall run up to-night and be back tomorrow evening. It is unfortunate that the cook left this morning, but you can get two or three meals outside."

"So the cook has left?"

"Yes."

"The cook has left, your mother is taken suddenly ill, and I'm to be left to poke around? Mrs. Bowser, I'm not a blind man. I see the little conspiracy in this thing, and when you return I shall want a long talk with you. It may or may not result in a divorce. It seems to me that—"

"But I must hurry to get the train," she interrupted. "If mother should die before I get there I never should forgive myself. Let's start at once."

"If your mother should die, Mrs. Bowser, if that iron jawed female who calls me son-in-law should expire; if the woman who comes down here occasionally to upset my house and make my life miserable should pass in her checks and leave this world—"

But Mrs. Bowser hurried him off before he could finish, and an hour later he had seen her off on the train and was back home. Then his diary began:

"Come home to find Mrs. Bowser all upset and ready to rush off to her mother because the old lady wanted to think I would miss her so much. Am sorry I was cross with her when I found she was going away. Perhaps I shouldn't have said as much as I did about her mother. How sad it is when death separates man and wife! I must force myself to sleep again."

"I have been thinking. Of course Mrs. Bowser ought to have gone, and I should have been only too ready to help her away. I don't believe there is a better woman on the face of this earth. If I had some women to live with they'd shut me up pretty quick, and I know it. If she lives to come back she will find me a different man. I was intending to tell her that it was all her fault about the cook leaving and that she could never keep any girl four weeks under her system, but I didn't have time and am now glad I didn't. Her system of running the house is all right."

"I have slept again, but only for a few minutes. A patrolman came along and leaned up against the gate and coughed like a horse. I went up to the window and asked him why he didn't knock his head off with his own club, and he said if I'd come down he'd make me holler in about two minutes."

"I've been thinking some more. Of course my mother-in-law couldn't help being taken sick, and I shouldn't have spoken of her as I did. She may be iron jawed, but at the same time she is good hearted. She is a great hand to boss around when she comes to see me, but that's only natural. She has sometimes said that she would like the handling of me for about half an hour and that she'd change me over or break my neck, but that is only her old fashioned way of expressing herself. I can remember a hundred kindnesses on her part, and I should be sorry to say or do anything to hurt her feelings."

"It is now 2 o'clock in the morning. I have been awakened again by that infernal cat. She does not know what awaits her before the clock strikes the hour of noon, but I do. No cat can break up my routine and give me a dig. I'll get even with her for it or my name isn't Bowser."

"The cat is seated on my knee as I write, and I have no doubt that she shares my feelings. Cats are no fools. They know when a mother-in-law is up to mean little tricks."

"I'll have a talk with Mrs. Bowser when she returns, and things will go different or I'll know the reason why. How can she tell but that I'll be taken sick here by myself tonight and die alone and unattended? I've a blamed good mind to do it to teach her a lesson."

"It is bedtime, and I am about to go to bed. I propose to sleep like a log and not let this thing upset me. Hang that mother-in-law! As I said to Mrs. Bowser before she left, if that old woman should happen to be called up among the angels her loss would be my gain."

"I had got into bed and was on the point of falling asleep when that blamed old cat downstairs uttered a howl to make my hair curl. I went down to whack her with a hairbrush, but she had hidden away."

"I am aroused again after a fitful sleep of an hour. I thought I heard the voice of Mrs. Bowser calling me, but it turned out to be the yell of a loafer on the street. I told him what I thought of him from the window, and he called me a liar. Another item to the score against the mother-in-law! I ought to have rented a double barreled shotgun for the night. I'll seek my couch again."

"Sought my couch and slept for half an hour, but had a dream and woke up in a cold shiver, dreamed that Mrs. Bowser was snatched up on the railroad and that her last thought was of me. Perhaps I won't have a long talk with her when she gets home and threaten divorce. It was only natural that she should want to go and see her sick mother, and I don't know that I should hold it up against her. Taken all around, Mrs. Bowser is a pretty good woman. I'll try to sleep again."

"Slept for forty minutes, and then the blamed old cat began scratching the carpet and howling and woke me up. I ran down to murder her in cold blood, but again she escaped me. She and I will have a settlement tomorrow, and I shall have no pity on her. Am thinking of Mrs. Bowser. I didn't wake me up three or four times on the same night and live to boast of it to other cats. I can remember many, many instances of unkindness to Mrs. Bowser, and drat my hide if I ain't sorry for each and every one. When she got on the train I told her that she could stay a month if she wanted to, but if she isn't home by evening I shall telegraph her to come by first train. If I get her back home again I'll be a different man from what I have been. What right has any husband to brow beat and bulldoze a wife?"

"I have been thinking again about my mother-in-law. I don't think I ever met up with a better hearted woman. She is always ready to sacrifice herself for others, and she seems to take delight in doing good deeds. There have been times when she has talked to me in the plainest manner and when I have wondered why on earth she couldn't die in a decent and respectable way, but when I come to think things over I realize that I was in the wrong. I do hope that her illness is nothing serious. As soon as the office is open in the morning I'll send a telegram of inquiry. If she's no better I'll go up on the noon train. Should Providence see fit to call her from earth away she shall have a tombstone costing at least $250 and with a lamb on top at that. I trust, however, that she may live for fifty years yet."

"Have been awakened for the hundredth time by that villainous cat. She seems to be defying somebody or something. It is the end. I am now going down to finish her."

"I have armed myself with the club I keep for burglars. I am on my way downstairs. I am downstairs, and—holly smoke!"

Mr. Bowser reached the head of the stairs to look down upon cats—scores of cats—mobs of cats—scores of cats which had entered the back windows by way of the roof of the shed and had taken possession of the house. As he stood and looked they turned their faces upward and meowed. As he shouted "Scat!" they rushed together and began fighting, and the curtain went down on a night of unqualified success.

Her Retort.

"Fish," he said, "is brain food."

"Better have some more," she urged solicitously.—Brooklyn Eagle.

MOTORMANSOUNDED GONG BUT DRIVER WAS CONFUSED

And Drove in Front of Interurban Car.
Buggy Smashed and the Horse
Was Injured.

Thursday evening as a car on the Buckeye Lake line was coming east a little west of Hebron, the motorman received a horse and buggy near the track and sounded the gong violently for the driver to get out of the way. Apparently the driver, who is a well known young farmer living near Hebron, named Mack Pugh, became confused and instead of turning out of the way, drove directly upon the tracks of the Buckeye road. The motorman called to him and sounded the gong more violently than before, but it was too late. The car struck the buggy full tilt, knocking it off the track and smashing it to pieces. The horse was knocked over and badly cut on the hip, but strange to say, Mr. Pugh was only slightly injured. It would seem from the statements of eye witnesses that the motorman was not to blame for the accident.

SURPRISED

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Griffith Given "Miscellaneous Shower" Wednesday Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Griffith, who were married on Tuesday evening, were the recipients of a delightful surprise at their new home on Granville street, on Wednesday evening. Mr. Griffith is connected with the carpet department at the H. H. Griggs store, and the employees of the store concluded that they would start them off on life's journey with a miscellaneous shower party. Accordingly on Wednesday night all the employees of the store, together with the Buckeye band, which had tendered its services as a compliment to Mr. Ned Davis, a member of the band, who is associated with Mr. Griffith in the store, met at the home of Miss McCarthy, on Sixth street. From there the merry party repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith about eight o'clock, and it is needless to say that the surprise of the newly married couple was complete. After the first hearty greetings came the "shower" and considerable fun was had in opening the numerous packages. The members of the party had taken along with them well filled baskets and a delicious supper was served. During the evening the Buckeye Band rendered a number of fine selections which were very much enjoyed. The occasion will be remembered by Mr. and Mrs. Griffith as one of the happiest events of their lives.
